PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm a Computer Science Engineering student at Ajeenkya D Y Patil School of Engineering, affiliated with Savitribai Phule Pune University. I'm passionate about web development and thrive on building dynamic, user-friendly websites and applications. With a solid foundation in both front-end and back-end technologies, including Java, Python, and JavaScript, I enjoy solving problems and writing clean, efficient code.

My goal is to become a skilled full-stack developer, capable of creating impactful digital solutions. I actively seek opportunities to learn through internships, hackathons, and open-source contributions.
